TOKYO Railway Map

Getting around Tokyo (for foreign tourists)

Please confirm beforehand in case of changes.

RAILWAYS

■ JR Lines

The JR rail lines that are used most often by foreign tourists are the Yamanote Line  and the Chuo/Sobu Line  . The Japan Rail Pass can be used for travel on these lines.

■ Subway

Tokyo has an extensive subway system. There are 9 Tokyo Metro lines  and 4 Toei Subway lines .

■ Privately-operated Rail Lines

Besides the JR lines, Tokyo is also served by around a dozen different private rail line operators. Most of these lines serve areas outside the central zone that is encircled by the Yamanote Line.

TAXI

Vacant taxis can be hailed by raising your hand. You can tell if a taxi is vacant because if it's vacant, the light on the roof will be switched on.

■ The minimum fare is 500 yen for approximately the first kilometer. For travel beyond the first kilometer, the fare is 100 yen per 255m.

BUS

You should board a bus from the front entrance. Pay the fare shown below when boarding. To get off, press one of the buttons inside the bus to get the bus to stop at the next stop, and then exit from the rear entrance.

■ Toei Bus

Fare (within Tokyo's 23 cities)
