Tokyo—Blessed with the Beauty of the Four Seasons

Japan has four well-defined seasons. Whatever time of year you visit, you can enjoy a distinctive seasonal environment with traditional festivals and ceremonies.

Spring is a season of endings and beginnings, a time of school graduations and new starts in life. Picturesque blossoms signal the arrival of spring, as people enjoy hanami (cherry blossom viewing) parties and spring festivals.

The summer calendar is packed with a variety of seasonal events. At night, people gather in a festive mood to enjoy fireworks and bon-odori dances.

Autumn in Japan is perfect for outdoor activities. It's also a time for indulging in the culinary delights of the season.

Tokyo bustles with activity during winter, especially in the lead-up to Christmas and over the New Year holidays. The streets teem with people, and beautiful light displays illuminate the city at night.

Experience Fascinating Japan in Tokyo, Where Old Meets New

Tokyo has served as the pulsating heart of Japan for over 400 years.

Tourists flock here from around the world to sample the city's one-of-a-kind atmosphere.

While embracing legacy and tradition, the city is forever in flux.

Come to Tokyo and you are guaranteed an unforgettable experience.

5 Reasons to Choose Tokyo for School Trips

1

Exchanges with Local Students

Trips to Tokyo also bring the chance to interact with local schools. The city having hosted the Olympic and Paralympic Games Tokyo 2020, many of Tokyo's schools sought opportunities for international exchange. Students of all ages are still excited at the prospect of meeting and communicating with their peers from overseas.

2

Safety and Security

Any destination chosen for a school trip must be safe, and it must provide a sense of security. According to the Safe Cities Index 2021 (Health Security category) report compiled by UK-based news magazine The Economist, Tokyo ranks as the safest major city in the world. Visitors and locals alike appreciate this aspect of the city, along with its notable cleanliness. Safe-and-clean Tokyo therefore makes an ideal destination for a school trip.

3

Japan's Economic Heart

Tokyo is an international center of economic activity. By itself, it accounts for around 20% of Japan's GDP, a figure just behind Turkey and larger than that of Switzerland.

The bustling streets of Tokyo never fail to amaze visitors to the city. Another draw for anyone planning a school trip here is the abundance of industry- and economy-related facilities that welcome visiting tour groups.

The Hub of Japan

With two international airports, Haneda and Narita, Tokyo is Japan's main gateway to the world. Domestic flights and an extensive network of Shinkansen bullet trains connect Tokyo with the rest of the country. Nearby major sightseeing spots such as Mt. Fuji are readily accessible by road. In all, Tokyo serves as a convenient transportation hub that provides easy access to other destinations.

5

Packed with Tourist Attractions

Tokyo is packed with a wealth of tourist attractions, from the cutting-edge to the traditional. Here, you will discover amazing pop culture, fashion, shopping, cuisine, entertainment, and more. The exciting fusion that Tokyo makes for an unforgettable trip.

School Exchange Programs— Transcend Language and Culture to Learn and Grow with Tokyo Students

Japan's Education System

The Japanese education system comprises six years of elementary school, three years of junior high school, and three years of senior high school. Education is compulsory for the first nine years, from elementary school (ages 7 to 12) through junior high school (ages 13 to 15). In 1974, the percentage of students going on to attend senior high school surpassed 90%; ever since then, this figure has stayed at a high level, reaching 98% in recent years.

The school year starts in April, with most schools adopting a three-semester system. Recently, an increasing number of schools are switching to a two-semester system. The time frame for school exchanges therefore depends on which system the host school is using.

Events on the School Calendar (Example)

The school calendar is essentially uniform across Japan, but details differ depending on the school or region. Students attend classes and take part in events held each season as part of a fulfilling school life.

The city is brimming with amazing sights, from fascinating historical locations to popular sightseeing spots. Tokyo offers a unique blend of cutting-edge technology, tradition, pop culture, fashion, and so much more. And students here are eager to meet and befriend their peers from around the world.

Disaster Prevention Day

In Japan, September 1 is designated as "Disaster Prevention Day" each year. This day was established in response to the Great Kanto Earthquake, which struck Tokyo and surrounding areas on this date in 1923, causing extensive damage and resulting in over 105,000 deaths and missing persons. From this experience, it was felt essential for every citizen to understand the importance of disaster preparedness, leading to the creation of Disaster Prevention Day. Japan experiences not only earthquakes but also other natural disasters such as typhoons and torrential rains, making this a day to reflect on various disasters and to strengthen both awareness and readiness for emergencies.

Initiatives at Tokyo Metropolitan Oshima High School

Approximately 1,000 camellia trees in some 380 different varieties are managed and operated by high school students of Oshima High School. This is truly a garden of camellias, the likes of which are simply not seen anywhere else in the world. In addition to the garden's use in education, including cultivation management practices and gardening classes, the students themselves guide visitors around the gardens. In collaborative initiatives with companies on the island, the oil extracted from the camellias on the school grounds is developed into products. Also, working together with Izu Oshima Geopark, environmental conservation efforts are made to return the camellias cultivated on the school grounds to the natural environment. These are some examples of the school's proactive approach to working with the local community.

Getting around Tokyo on Your Own

Maximize Your Enjoyment in Tokyo by Using Public Transportation

Trains are the best way to get around Tokyo. Besides major lines such as the JR line, Tokyo Metro, and Toei Subway, there are numerous privately run lines as well. Here's how to buy tickets and take the trains.

Types of Tickets

Smart Cards (Pasmo and Suica)

These smart cards are valid on almost all trains and buses in Tokyo. These can be purchased at ticket vending machines at stations and charged in denominations of 1,000 to 5,000 yen, and 10,000 yen. There is a 500-yen deposit charge for these smart cards. When the money on the smart cards runs out, they can be recharged at a ticket vending machine. There are two types of smart card, Pasmo and Suica, sold by different companies, but they both can be used in the same way and throughout the Tokyo area.

Pasmo

Suica

Train Tickets

Regular train tickets can be purchased at ticket vending machines in the station. Check the fare table to find the cost of a ticket from your current station to the destination station.

Taking the Train

Using a Smart Card

- As you enter the train platform area, hold the smart card flat over the card reader at the ticket gate.

- After you get off the train and as you leave the train platform area, once again hold the smart card flat over the card reader at the ticket gate. A certain amount of money will be deducted from the smart card depending on how far you traveled. The amount of money left on the smart card is shown on the display at the ticket gate.

Using a Ticket

- As you enter the train platform area, place your ticket in the ticket slot at the ticket gate. It will come out the other side of the ticket gate so don't forget to take it out. Be careful not to lose your ticket, because you need it to get out of the station you're arriving at.

- After you get off the train and as you leave the train platform area, once again place your ticket in the ticket slot at the ticket gate. Your ticket will automatically be collected so simply exit the ticket gate without your ticket. If you are going to transfer to another train or subway line, your ticket will come out the other side of the ticket gate, so be sure to take it with you.
